BACKGROUND:

Any Member of the Central Michigan University community may request that their gender identity and lived/chosen name be accurately presented on university documents and displays of personal information. In many cases, a lived/chosen name is a key component of any person's identity and the use of their lived/chosen name by others is an important element of creating an inclusive organizational culture.

PURPOSE:

In the spirit of inclusion and diversity, to which CMU is strongly committed, CMU wishes to allow students, faculty, and staff to use a lived/chosen first name that differs from their legal name. The lived/chosen name will be used consistently across internal systems, processes, and documents.

DEFINITIONS:

Dead Name: Refers to the name that trans person was given at birth but no longer uses. "Dead name" is intended to emphasize the inappropriateness of utilizing the name one is assigned at birth instead of their chosen name (i.e., misgendered). Legal name is utilized rather than "dead name" for the purpose of this policy.

Gender Identity: The gender(s), if any, with which a person identifies. Gender identity can be the same or different from the sex one is assigned at birth.

Legal Name: A person's name that is used for official government or other documents, including but not limited to birth certificates, passports, state ID cards, and driver's licenses.

Lived/Chosen Name: An alternative to a person's Legal Name, as designated by that individual, that is included in CMU's systems.

Nonbinary: An umbrella term for gender identifications, other than "woman" or "man," including genders with aspects of both or neither, Nonbinary persons may identify as agender, genderqueer, gender fluid, Two Spirit, bigender, pangender, gender nonconforming or gender variant.

Title/Subject: GENDER RECOGNITION AND LIVED/CHOSEN NAME POLICY

Transgender/Trans: An umbrella term used to describe a person whose gender identity differs from their assigned birth sex. A trans person may not take social, medical, and/or legal steps to transition. Gender is self-determined and not based on social, medical, or legal recognition.

POLICY:

It is the policy of CMU to allow an individual to use a name that is different from their legal name. The designation of a lived/chosen name may be of interest to a range of community members, including but not limited to persons who/whose:

- Is transgender;
- Gender identity differs from sex assigned a birth on legal/official documents;
- Are survivors of abuse and/or trafficking;
- Lived/chosen name is a variation or abbreviation of their legal name (e.g., international students); and/or
- Have had a legal name change (i.e., change in marital status), but also wish to retain the name under which they have previously published.

The lived/chosen name will be used consistently across internal CMU communication and reporting systems, within the scope of legal requirements. CMU is expeditiously using its best efforts to update internal processes and infrastructure to meet the expectations of the policy.

A lived/chosen name must not be vulgar, offensive, or obscene and cannot create confusion of the individual with another person. A lived/chosen name must otherwise comply with all CMU policies.

A lived/chosen name will appear instead of the Legal Name in CMU online directory, on CMU ID cards (along with a global ID), on Blackboard or other CMU-supported Learning Management Systems, all degree auditing reports, class rosters, internal scheduling systems, and other systems employed by the university for conduction essential business functions as appropriate. In addition, CMU will ensure the following:

- The university will provide three equally recognized options on university-issued documents and within university systems: woman, man, and non-binary.
- The legal name of university students, employees, alumni, and other members of the CMU community, if different than the individual's lived/chosen name, will be kept private and must not be published on documents or in displays that do not require the person's legal name.
- The gender option self-selected by an individual must be used within all CMU settings and situations.
- As a public institution, the collection of gender identity data is necessary for federal reporting and assessing gender equity. As such, this policy also guides CMU on the collection and reporting of gender identity, lived/chosen name, and sexual orientation.

Individuals who update their lived name/chosen name/preferred name according to this Policy after being issued an ID card may request a replacement card, at no cost.

The legal name will be used by CMU only when it is required for purposes including but not limited to legal reporting purposes, such as financial aid documents, immigration documents, medical and health records, payroll, and professional licensure records. The previous list is not exhaustive.

To ensure accurate records, individuals should routinely identify themselves if using a lived/chosen name, and when identifying, referring to, or requesting about others should use that individuals' lived/chosen name, as well as that individuals' global ID, if appropriate.

PROCEDURE:

CMU uses multiple systems and applications to manage its operations and processes. Where appropriate, CMU systems and applications will be modified to display only the lived/chosen name. This modification process will be implemented as soon as is practicable. The Gender Recognition and Lived/Chosen Name Policy will be reviewed bi-annually.
