Board Policy Administrative Policy Procedure Guideline

POLICY:

Moderated, electronic mailing lists of students have been established primarily for messages “from the dean of students” regarding information considered to be of interest and importance to most if not all students. Other matters of University business which are merely “news items” may also be approved for distribution. Employees may also use other means of electronic communication for university purposes, those are governed by the master policy on Digital Communication and the Acceptable Use Policy.

BACKGROUND:

CMU recognizes the efficiency of employing digital communications among its students and employees. Digital communication saves time, saves money, and is often the fastest, most effective method of communication among members of the CMU community. At the same time, digital communications can easily be abused, and an email that seems useful and pertinent to one student or employee might easily appear as “spam” to another. While email from individual to individual is sometimes troublesome, the real issue emerges with regard to bulk or group communications, and it is this type of communication to which this policy specifically refers.

DEFINITIONS:

Moderated means that all messages are approved prior to being distributed to assure they meet the criteria of this policy. All responses to the distributed message go back to the Dean of Students unless otherwise requested.

PROCEDURE:

The Dean of Students maintains two listservs and controls access to announcements on the student portal for the use of members of the CMU community wishing to communicate with the CMU student body. Approval authority for each of these communication channels rests in the Office of the Dean of Students and guidelines and procedures for utilizing each are identified below.

1. Email listserv

Messages that are of an emergency of very important nature may be approved for distribution by the Office of the Dean of Students to all students with e-mail accounts. The likelihood of approval is greatly enhanced when the message is deemed important to most students. Examples include dealing with such issues as university financial matters, course registration, emergencies (e.g., health, weather,) or new university policies. Most other announcements will be deemed not appropriate to send to all student e-mail accounts. Persons wishing to send other electronic announcements to students are encouraged to consider posting a message on the CMU Student Announcement List (see below section.)

All students with e-mail accounts have been included on the list. This list can be sorted by all freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, graduate students, and by main campus and ProfEd enrollment. Questions should be directed to the Office of the Dean of Students at 774-3346.

Procedures to submit an announcement

Announcements intended for CMU students must be sent by e-mail to studentnews@cmich.edu. The subject line of the e-mail message must be the title of the announcement, written in all capital letters. This title also must be the first line of the announcements written in all capital letters. Announcements must include the following information for the person submitted the announcements: name, department or office name (if applicable), name of registered student organization (if applicable), campus phone number, an e-mail address. This should be written in parenthesis at the end of the message. Please use the following format: (Submitted by: Name, office name, phone number, e-mail address). A signature file may not be used as a substitute for the submission information requirement listed above. Please turn off your signature file before sending the announcement. Announcements must be 100 words or fewer, including the title and the required submission information at the end of each announcement. Messages that are longer than 100 words may be edited by the office of the dean of student staff or may be returned to the sender for editing. Announcements must be one paragraph only, and they must be prior to the scheduled event. One set of announcements will be sent each Monday. The Office of the Dean of Students reserves the right to edit or reject announcements for any reason, including but not limited to noncompliance with the university's advocacy policy or the fund-raising sales and soliciting policy. Do not send the announcement as an attachment. The announcement must be typed directly into the body of an e-mail message. E-mail messages with attachments will be returned. Double check all dates, times and locations included in your announcement. CMUstudents' distribution list has nearly 20,000 Mt. Pleasant campus student subscribers. Please keep this in mind when writing your message, and double check it for accuracy.
